

: Learning Control sec:framework

To do so, we must quickly build a model of the new application and then control its resource usage such that it meets a desired performance target with minimal energy.

figure [width=]figures/Overview.pdf overview. fig:overview